"Impressive." -The Daily Games staff "Extremely enjoyable."
-IGN GAME REVIEW "Overall the game has a more polished feel to it and when your struggling to get through certain content only to find out you need to summon a boss to defeat then it's just sad. Also the game's lore and backstory is very immersive and enjoyable, but then again I find myself staring at walls wishing I could be anywhere else." -Game Director Manager of Select Button Games, Ben Cousins "What I love is that the gameplay is good, but the story is something new." -Game Developer of Moon Sword Entertainment, Alex Aranha "I recommend that you play this game if you're into fantasy."
-Game Designer, Kryo Abrio "The lore is big and it goes into detail about everything that happens" -Game Director of Select Button Games, Ben Cousins "It's not hard or confusing at all. So just try it." -Game Developing on BukaGame, Soan

RPG Hi, I'm a programmer, and I used to be a "college student" in my teens. Many years later, I decided to revisit my hobbies. I love RPGs. Especially RPGs that have solid gameplay, but have some meaningful story content and sense of emotion to them. *nods* I'm currently a freelance programmer, and working on my own projects. For those who wish to play my game (here), you can join my discord I also have twitter: @Tsukiyomi_Soan. I used to have a google account there as well, but... *swears* I'm also a developer on BukaGame, as well as a game designer. I've created social games as well. So yes, I am a full-time developer, AND a game designer. I am also a 7th class student at Kokugakuin University, with a major in Game Design. Once again, I hope you enjoy my game. In case anyone is interested, I am also on twitter @Tsukiyomi_Soan. RPG Hi, I'm a programmer, and I used to be a " bff6bb2d33

I want to post a subscription and a one time payment that are applied to my account at once. There are settings for each payment, and a one time payment removes that setting.

However, Postpayments for Paypal will delay the subscription setting until the next login. How can I create a payment for this client? A: We've got an example of a subscription validator here that's been converted to Stripe and works very similarly to what you're describing, including this: you can use PostPayments for Paypal or PayPal directly. For each subscription we offer, we create a second link like this one and point it to the online donations processor for you - i.e. we send them to your "Auktion" merchant store, and they come back to us so we can track them. This is the button that appears on the donation form itself, which you can then copy/paste and refresh to submit the donation. We actually review all of these transactions when a user makes a donation because we have to make sure the money is going to the right cause and to make sure the requested donation amount is being charged - even if you just chose the wrong amount, the data from that form is still sent
